

Tim & Ali's

November 2007

Life has been very busy to say the least, yet in the quieter moments it is very easy for us to reflect on what God has been up to in our lives! Ali has started teaching, Tim has started a new job and Dan has started a new nursery! I guess it has been a time of new beginnings. One great adventure we have found ourselves on is 'Facebook' (for the uninitiated - an online means of connecting with people). If you are on 'Facebook' and haven't become our friend yet, please hunt us down, or email us a link!

Ali update

I can't really believe a whole half term of teaching has been and gone already! It has been hard work but I haven't been getting as tired as I had expected. That is a real answer to prayer as it was one of my biggest concerns about going back to teaching after my thyroid operation. I have quite a variety of classes, from little year 7's, through year 9's, year 10 and 11's doing GCSEs and finally a year 12 class doing AS Biology. Teaching the year 7s is a lot of fun, they are just so enthusiastic about science! There is a really good teaching team in the Science department, very willing to help each other and the atmosphere is usually very upbeat. I am managing to stay on top of lesson preparation but it often feels like a never ending job!

Tim update

I managed to coordinate WYnet for 5 years. Where did that time go?! I have now been given the opportunity to develop a team under the banner of Next Generation Mobilisation UK to cover 'WYnet' and it's over 18 counterpart 'Connect'. This picture shows my team (Steve, myself and Jess) at our first event exhibit. Steve did a gap year with me last year, he will be focussed on WYnet things. Jess is an ex-WYnetter, she just graduated with a degree in creative writing and has joined us to focus on Connect stuff.

We are very excited about going to Canada for Christmas. Having planned and saved for this for over two years, we feel like it is finally coming together! James (Tim's brother) and Kate (James' wife) are also coming across to visit Tim's dad and family in Calgary so we are looking forward to some good family times. Dan is very excited about being able to play with Sarah again. We are also planning some suitable outings, like a trip to an ice hockey game and maybe a little snowboarding!

update

Dan spends Monday to Wednesday at Blue Skies Montessori Nursery in Wheeler End. Dan loves going there and it is great for him to spend time interacting with other kids his age. Dan's key worker

We have had an extraordinarily large number of weddings this year, in fact I think we will hit nine on December the 15th! This was from Tim's brother James' wedding on 07-07-07, a pretty popular day to be getting married on! Other Wycliffe news includes the search for our new Executive director. Geoff Knott is due to finish on February 29th and we have got a replacement lined up, it just needs to go past a member's affirming vote and then another trustees meeting in December and we will be there!

Our ministry is run on the donations of individuals and churches. If you would like to make a donation, please sent it to:

House update

Well, we have enjoyed our house for just over a year now and we have had a few ups and downs while trying to work out if we can buy it. At this very moment in time we are encouraged about the possibilities. It is a huge step for us, if it all works out we will be buying in conjunction with a few partners and we have to get all the details worked out correctly!
